The European Commission (His Excellency Norbert Jousten, Head of the EU delegation in Kazakhstan, René Mally, Coordinator, and Pierre-Yves Lucas, Project Manager) provided important guidance and support.

The report was written under the guidance of Carolyn Ervin, Director of the Directorate for Financial and Enterprise Affairs (DAF), and Anthony O’Sullivan, Head of the Private Sector Development Division within DAF.

Fadi Farra, Head of the Eurasia Competitiveness Programme and adjunct lecturer in political economy at both the Harvard University Kennedy School of Government and HEC Paris, led and supervised the study. Antonio Somma, Economist, was project manager of the work. The individual chapters were written by a core team of policy analysts and consultants: Claire Burgio, policy analyst and project co-ordinator (wheat sector, methodology); Gregory Lecomte, policy analyst (meat, dairy, chemicals and logistics); Romanita Berghia-Revenko, consultant (IT and business services); Piret Hein, consultant (Single Commodity Transfer); Sergiy Rusnak, consultant (agribusiness); Yergali Dosmagambet (IT spillover study); with input from Professor Jo Swinnen (agribusiness workshop).

The Country Capability Survey developed by the Programme was carried with the support of the Business Information, Social and Marketing Research Center (BISAM). The Business and Industry Advisory Committee to the OECD (BIAC) provided support for the OECD Foreign Investor Survey.

The report underwent a quality review by a panel consisting of OECD experts, academic peers, and external country specialists affiliated with the OECD. Andrzej Kwiecinski, Senior Agriculture Policy Analyst in the Development Division of the Trade and Agriculture Directorate, led the review of the agriculture content of the publication. Alexander Böhmer, Senior Economist, Ania Thiemann, Economist and Sara Sultan, Policy Analyst at the OECD, participated in review discussions. Dr. Richard Pomfret, Professor of Economics at the University of Adelaide with an expertise on Central Asia, reviewed the publication in its entirety. Dr. Johan Swinnen, Professor of Development Economics at the University of Leuven, Belgium and a specialist on agricultural economics, held a two-day workshop at the OECD in the early stage of the analysis. Dr. Volker Frobarth, Programme Director at the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit (GTZ) in Central Asia, reviewed the publication upon completion. In addition, the publication was reviewed in Kazakhstan by the National Analytical Center (NAC), and Ministry of Industry and Innovation.

The final report was edited and prepared for publication by Fadi Farra, Antonio Somma, Claire Burgio, Gregory Lecomte, Romanita Berghia-Revenko, Sergiy Rusnak, Laura Boutin, Vanessa Vallee and Edward Smiley.
