

Introduction: Conduct of the review

Peer review and country contributions

The review was conducted by a team consisting of members of the OECD Secretariat, and peer reviewers drawn from the administrations of other European countries with expertise in Better Regulation. The review team for Germany was:

- Caroline Varley, Project Leader for the EU 15 reviews, Regulatory Policy Division of the Public Governance Directorate, OECD.
- Lorenzo Allio, Independent consultant on public governance and regulatory reform, attached to the OECD Secretariat for this review.
- Michel Hainque, Economic and Financial Controller General, Ministry for the Economy, Industry and Employment, Ministry for the Budget, Public Accounts, the Civil Service and State Reform, Mission on law simplification, France.
- Panagiotis Karkatsoulis, Lawyer, Policy Adviser and Task Force Member to the Ministry of Public Administration and Decentralisation and other Greek ministries.

The review team held discussions in Berlin with German officials and external stakeholders on 21 January and 9-13 March 2009. The report takes account of major initiatives and developments since this mission and prior to the federal elections on 27th September 2009.

The team interviewed representatives of the following organisations:

- Confederation of German Trade Unions (DGB).
- Federal Academy of Public Administration (BaköV).
- Federal chancellery (BK).
- Federal Ministry for the Environment (BMU).
- Federal Ministry of Economics (BMW*i*).
- Federal Ministry of Justice (BMJ).
- Federal Ministry of the Interior (BMI).
- Federal Parliament (Bundestag and Bundesrat).
- Federal statistical office (SBD).
- Federation of German Industries (BDI).
- German Association of Cities and Municipalities.
- German Chambers of Industry and Commerce (DIHK).
- German Confederation of Skilled Crafts (ZDH).

- German County Association (DLT).
- National Regulatory Control Council (NKR).
- Office of Technology Assessment.
- Representatives of the Land of Baden-Württemberg, Brandenburg, Hessen, Lower Saxony.

Structure of the report

The report is structured into eight chapters. The project baseline is set out at the start of each chapter. This is followed by an assessment and recommendations, and background material.

- Strategy and policies for Better Regulation. This chapter first considers the drivers of Better Regulation policies and the country’s public governance framework seeks to provide a “helicopter view” of Better Regulation strategy and policies. It then considers overall communication to stakeholders on strategy and policies, as a means of encouraging their ongoing support. It reviews the mechanisms in place for the evaluation of strategy and policies aimed at testing their effectiveness. Finally, it (briefly) considers the role of e-Government in support of Better Regulation.
- Institutional capacities for Better Regulation. This chapter seeks to map and understand the different and often interlocking roles of the entities involved in regulatory management and the promotion and implementation of Better Regulation policies. It also examines training and capacity building within government.
- Transparency through consultation and communication. This chapter examines how the country secures transparency in the regulatory environment, both through public consultation in the process of rule- making and public communication on regulatory requirements.
- The development of new regulations. This chapter considers the processes, which may be interwoven, for the development of new regulations: procedures for the development of new regulations (forward planning; administrative procedures, legal quality); the ex ante impact assessment of new regulations; and the consideration of alternatives to regulation.
- The management and rationalisation of existing regulations. This chapter looks at regulatory policies focused on the management of the “stock” of regulations. These policies include initiatives to simplify the existing stock of regulations, and initiatives to reduce burdens which administrative requirements impose on businesses, citizens and the administration itself.
- Compliance, enforcement, appeals. This chapter considers the processes for ensuring compliance and enforcement of regulations, as well administrative and judicial review procedures available to citizens and businesses for raising issues related to the rules that bind them.
- The interface between member states and the EU. This chapter considers the processes that are in place to manage the negotiation of EU regulations, and their transposition into national regulations. It also briefly considers the interface of national Better Regulation policies with Better Regulation policies implemented at EU level.

- The interface between subnational and national levels of government. This chapter considers the rule-making and rule-enforcement activities of local/sub federal levels of government, and their interplay with the national/federal level. It reviews the allocation of regulatory responsibilities at the different levels of government, the capacities of the local/sub federal levels to produce quality regulation, and co-ordination mechanisms between the different levels.

Methodology

The starting point for the reviews is a “project baseline” which draws on the initiatives for Better Regulation promoted by both the OECD and the European Commission over the last few years:

- The OECD’s 2005 Guiding Principles for Regulatory Quality and Performance set out core principles of effective regulatory management which have been tested and debated in the OECD membership.
- The OECD’s multidisciplinary reviews over the last few years of regulatory reform in 11 of the 15 countries to be reviewed in this project included a comprehensive analysis of regulatory management in those countries, and recommendations.
- The OECD/SIGMA regulatory management reviews in the 12 “new” EU member states carried out between 2005 and 2007.
- The 2005 renewed Lisbon Strategy adopted by the European Council which emphasises actions for growth and jobs, enhanced productivity and competitiveness, including measures to improve the regulatory environment for businesses. The Lisbon Agenda includes national reform programmes to be carried out by member states.
- The European Commission’s 2006 Better Regulation Strategy, and associated guidelines, which puts special emphasis on businesses and especially small to medium-sized enterprises, drawing attention to the need for a reduction in administrative burdens.
- The European Commission’s follow up Action Programme for reducing administrative burdens, endorsed by the European Council in March 2007.
- The European Commission’s development of its own strategy and tools for Better Regulation, notably the establishment of an impact assessment process applied to the development of its own regulations.
- The OECD’s recent studies of specific aspects of regulatory management, notably on cutting red tape and e-Government, including country reviews on these issues.

The report, which was drafted by the OECD Secretariat, was the subject of comments and contributions from the peer reviewers as well as from colleagues within the OECD Secretariat. It was fact checked by Germany.

The report is also based on material provided by Germany in response to a questionnaire, including relevant documents, as well as relevant recent reports and reviews carried out by the OECD and other international organisations on linked issues such as e-Government and public governance.

Within the OECD Secretariat, the EU 15 project is led by Caroline Varley, supported by Sophie Bismut. Elsa Cruz de Cisneros and Shayne MacLachlan provided administrative and communications support, respectively, for the development and publication of the report.

Regulation: what the term means for this project

The term “regulation” in this project is generally used to cover any instrument by which governments set requirements on citizens and enterprises. It therefore includes all laws (primary and secondary), formal and informal orders, subordinate rules, administrative formalities and rules issued by non-governmental or self-regulatory bodies to whom governments have delegated regulatory powers. The term is not to be confused with EU regulations. These are one of three types of EC binding legal instrument under the Treaties (the other two being directives and decisions).
